CITY CARRIES COAL TO NEWCASTLE DURING WAR

The war has been brought to the doors of the great Pennsylvania coal fields.

So great has been the demand for coal by England and her Allies that Great Britain has not been able to maintain its great export trade to Spain, Italy, France and all South American countries.

These comparative figures tell their own story.

In the first three months of the year, with the world practically carrying stocks supplied by the Welsh mines, coal exports from this city numbered 116,732 tons.

Argentine Republic bought only 5740 tons in the first five months, but in June she received 33,362 tons from Pennsylvania mines.

Italy in the first four months took 15,004 tons, and in May and June the shipments totaled 22,963 tons.

Spain purchased no coal here in the first four months, but in May and June her shipments amounted to 28,559 tons.

Shippers here believe that once a regular trade is established with these countries foreigners will find it difficult to get it back in the future.

AMERICAN COAL HAS RISEN IN PRICE FOR EXPORT. AT THE PRESENT RATES OF $3 TO $15 A TON ARE QUOTED.
